They All Did It

Premier Greenfield implies that the election in Grouard was a racial fight. It would seem so. All the races in the constituency appear to have been fighting the Government.

All Doubts Dispelled

If anybody disputed their moral or legal right to be known as the lady basketball champions of the world, the Grads have settled the matter by disposing of the Strasburg team and then annexing the championship. They did it, too, in the decisive way that has become characteristic of them by a score of 37 to 8. The victory was not unexpected, but is none the less gratifying on that account. This remarkable company of Edmonton girls stand in a class of their own. They have no serious rivals for premier honors, and all aspirants for second place are a long way in the rear.

A Good Record Counts

The weather considered the attendance at the fair was far larger than it was reason able to expect. The explanation lies in the fact that the exhibition has been consistently conducted with a view to giving its patrons the maximum amount of pleasure. A fair lives on its reputation. No amount of local patronage would cause the people of the town and district to waste their dollars by buying tickets to an exhibition that had been run on the principle of a shell game. Even those who claim to be "fed up" on events of the kind go to the fair because they think there will get value for money. I think they will get value for money in spite of profit amusement. That conviction on the part of the public stands the exhibition in good stead when adverse weather interferes with the program and discourages attendance.

A Hint From Sir Henry

Sir Henry Thornton has given Edmonton and other centres served by National lines a straight answer as to what they should do if they find themselves in the ranks of C.P.R. by enjoying preferential freight rates under the Crow's Nest agreement. The Railway Commission, he points out, exists to "iron out" such discrepancies. That was a good deal more than the head of the National system was under obligation to say. The indications are that he is naturally and properly anxious to get revenue for the Nationals—Sir Henry is not taking the position that he can collect more than the C.P.R. is allowed to collect for like service. The inference is that if discrimination can be shown, the Commission will not be asked to sanction and perpetuate it.

A Vanishing Race

The chief game guardian for Saskatchewan estimates that there are not more than 250 wild antelope remaining in that province. Twenty years ago they were plentiful. This being the case, the race has fallen an easy victim to the changed conditions produced by settlement, and is seemingly doomed to disappear. That likelihood is all the greater because the antelope does not do well in captivity, and it is a question whether his race can be saved from extinction by rearing him in pens. His habitat is now so successfully dened to observe the buffalo. Lovers of nature, and sportsmen as well, will regret the prospective disappearance of one of the most interesting of the wild creatures native to the plains.

Asking the Public to Help

The Railway Association of Canada is making an appeal to the public to help both the railways and themselves by buying winter tires on all their valuable commodities cars and for immediate shipment. It is pointed out that from the end of September to the first of April railway operation is subject to severe conditions, while having the maximum amount of traffic to handle. It is claimed that at present there is in the Lake and St. Lawrence area a rolling stock equipment consisting of 6,500 locomotives, 169,000 coal cars, 138,000 box cars and 51,000 other freight cars. This rolling stock is now standing idle. But three months hence it will all be in use and there will be a demand for more. If we fail to help immediately before the season is through there would be economy and efficiency all round. Incidentally, the mines would be able to operate during the summer, thus relieving some of the difficulties which beset that industry because at one period it has no orders and at another has more orders than it can fill.

Parliament

The session of Parliament which closed Saturday night was the most important that has been held for several years. The adoption of a definite policy of reduced tariff and other taxation is the most notable step taken toward easing the handicaps which came with war time and gives a country a chance to recover from its condition. The church union bill gave sanction to a movement of deep interest to a very large section of our population. The redistribution of seats ensures that when another election is held the whole of the House of Commons will be entitled by increase of population. Provision was made for the construction of nineteen branch lines of the National system. By the refusal of legislation to further au-pend the Crow's Nest agreement reduced rates of shipping on grain and other articles are secured to the West. The failure of the Home Bank resulted in the establishment of a system of Government inspection calculated to secure both shareholders and depositors against further losses from incompetent or dishonest management.

As a "hang over" from the session there is the report of the commission which investigated the question of establishing a system of rural credits. The committee in charge of this report is to give it further consideration and to submit its recommendations to bring in a recommendation at next session which may be made basis of a plan whereby farmers may secure capital or more advantageous terms. Considering the results which have followed the operation of some schemes of the kind by provincial Governments, the wisdom of such a proposal is apparent.

In several sections of the West there is keen disappointment because six of the projected branch lines on the construction program of the National railways were rejected by the Senate. The more important thing however is that the projected branches were authorized. This is the first decided move toward railway construction on any considerable scale that has been made since the war. The rejection of the other six projects only means delay at most, and may not actually mean that in all cases. What did it, too, in the case of the Kananaskis management is intended to cover even a period of three years. It is only assumption that work would have been started on the whole twenty-five branches during the present summer, or that construction will be got under way this year in all of the nine remaining branches. There are no real limits to the number of districts in which railway construction can be advantageously carried on simultaneously, and it is quite possible that the Senate is being blamed for delay where that would have occurred in any case.

Another unfinished problem is that of compensation to depositors who lost money when the Home Bank founders. On recommendation of the Banking Committee, Parliament formally admitted that these depositors were entitled to compensation and that the amount should be paid out of the funds available for an annual session to date, probably because it is not yet known what the possess amount is or how much of it the shareholders in the unfortunate institution can or can be made to pay.

The session closed with the House of Commons in session and the Senate in committee of the whole on the Pensions Act. As a result of the refusal of the upper chamber to en passim the difference, Premier King announced the steps will be taken when Parliament again meets to set bounds to the powers of the Senate. Of what kind and degree he did not suggest, others are to decide that the action of the Senate follows the line of those imposed upon the House of Lords at Westminster a few years ago under like circumstances.

Current Comment

THREE YEARS AFTER.

Calgary Albertan: Three years ago yesterday, it may be remembered, there was an election in the province of Alberta, and the Stewart government was overthrown, and shortly after the Greenfield government was created. At that time the Alberta election was under way again, very strenuously, right across the province.

BABY BORN IN LONDON TUBE GETS SILVER CUP

LONDON, July 21.—Said to be a baby born in one of London's underground stations, the tiny infant was christening recently at the Tube station Electrician (whose initials are E. C.). The baby's birth attracted the attention of Lord Aspinwall, chairman of the Underground system, and many other railway officials.

Upon learning of the baby's birth on one of the underground stations, the station manager allowed him to be permitted to act as god-father and at the time of the christening presented her with a solid silver cup.

GOOD MUSIC HAS ITS PART IN VAUDEVILLE

Any Idea to Contrary Will Be Dispelled by Hearing Grand Opera Tenor

The old idea that good music has been dispelled by Alexander and his ragas, who—a patron of music himself—was fond of turning up to see what the opera artists to fancy contracts if they evinced a desire to enter the field of musical entertainment. During Thursday night, Mr. Pantages has a special program of grand opera tenors for the headline attraction is none other than the internationally famous Giacomo Pavarotti. The tenors mentioned have already become accustomed to the demands of quota regulations. It was erroneous newspapers that Canadians by birth were affected by the regulations, as such is not the case. It is stated.

In America Chinese have sprung up with great success and Chicago grand opera companies have been equally prominent in the opera houses of Petrograd, Paris, London, New York, and elsewhere. The Chinese repertoire is still in some sort of the best-known and most popular in the world, and the Chinese tour, and will also include some popular songs. The Chinese tour is a red-letter one in local musical circles, and it is hoped that Americans, with their strong patronage, will recognize the enterprise of the musical world.

The added feature for the current season is the introduction of the steel heads. They are the world's own best-known and most popular in the program of international symphonies.

The added attraction is the Della Resina, a Spanish style program of torpedoes, novelties, etc., etc.

Another variety of dancing included in the offering of this talented trio.

It is expected that the show will be seen in their latest success, "Just a Little Bit Different," a singing and dancing number, and a ticket to the matinee performance is given to those who buy a ticket to invite a lady friend to accompany her to the show. Tickets can be secured now at the box office.

DRAMA OF BROADWAY SHOWS EVERY TYPE

"Broadway After Dark" Is Revelation of Life Under White Lights

Like an avalanche came the gaudis yesterday of the parades of the stars of Broadway. The first picture showing there, "Broadway After Dark," is the occasion was the Owen Davis madrigals, a Warney, and the "Affairs of Screen" "Broadway After Dark," a revelation of the possibilities of pictures of the possibilities of pictures of the stars of Broadway. The man who was associated with Charles Chaplin in his early days of comedy. But it was also a revelation of the street of Broadway, the life of Broadway. The drama, compounded of the best and worst types of society found that guitars street of white lights, the star of the show, the star of the theme—a theme that never fails to appeal to the human heart—is carried on in the life of Rose Duhane, the luckless girl of the "Affairs of Screen" in order to buy her dying mother of the necessities of life, who was compelled to commit her offence.

When she is freed, she works as a waitress in a theatrical boarding house, where comes Rainey, Norton, a woman of the world, who has tired of the hectic life of Broadway. Rainey, after outfitting and trying to get her to her set, to find out that she is the same old person. From this situation springs the vivid love scenes and rich drama with which the picture is sprinkled.

MEN OF HONOR ARE STILL PLENTIFUL

Film Now Showing at the Capitol Prove This Fact to Skeptical Public

"Unguarded Women," the latest silent epic from the Paramount studios, is the latest hit of the day's run at the Capitol theatre last night. The picture is well made, though it is not the best of its type; secondly it shows that certain members of the female species are not particularly good material for protecting an acre of house, dependent upon the fact that they have their own innate frivolities which is ever-ready to plunge them into the mud.

Alan Crosland, entertainment's most extraordinary, directed the picture.

The intelligent "Men of Honor" of the silent screen, Mr. Astor and the other members of the administration, are the best of the day. It offers conclusive evidence that there are men of honor among us, and that we are not all strike; secondly it shows that certain members of the female species are not particularly good material for protecting an acre of house, dependent upon the fact that they have their own innate frivolities which is ever-ready to plunge them into the mud.

ESKIMO MURDER TRIAL TO BE POSTPONED INDEFINITELY

Two Alberta Towns Blighted By Fires in Business Sections

CASTOR FIRE THOUGHT SET

Entire Business Part Of Town
Is Destroyed By Confusion

DAMAGE IS $250,000

No Clue As To Firebug Who Started Blaze In National Hotel

(Special to The Bulletin) — July 21.—Fire started at an early hour yesterday morning from what is believed to be more or less ordinary, wiped out the business section of the town. Castor, which was the greatest, that had ever experienced such a damage, cost about $250,000.

Shortly after one o'clock smoke was seen rising from the roof of the National Hotel, by the night cook, who immediately turned in the alarm. The fire was turned over to the scene, and before long the fire, which had been well controlled, was under control.

Second Fire Seen

Business section was also destroyed at the rear end of the building.

This one has already burned beyond control, and within a few minutes had spread to the Castor Laundry.

From that time on the blaze spread rapidly, encompassing the whole of the business section.

McGillivray's Furniture Store, M. H. Murphy's Drug Store, J. C. McMurtry's and Horst's Hardware Store while the main building of the National Hotel was saved.

Residential Section Saved

Desperate fighting by members of the local brigade, townsmen, and friends of the fire department, located in from the country, was rewarded by the residential section of the town.

Townsmen say that the fire was uncontrolled for about two hours.

Only three weeks ago another fire also said to have been of incendiary origin, started in the rear of the National Hotel, and it is commented that the same person is responsible for the second fire.

It is thought that the second fire was set to the building in the hope of getting insurance.

Number One Houses

Residential houses were unoccupied by the fire, while some are unburned.

A large estimate of the fire is put at not over $250,000, covered by a policy of $250,000.

Royal Bank lost $2,000 fully covered.

Castor's stone building, owned by C. E. Smith, was insured for $1,000, with $500 in insurance.

Castor's laundry, owned by G. L. Farmer, was covered by $100 insurance.

National Hotel lost not less than about $10,000 including building insurance between $2,000.

No clues have been found so far as to the person who started the fire.

FLOW MILLERS WANT GOOD LOCATION HERE

BIG CONCERN ASKS MAYOR FOR MORE INFORMATION
—ASK NO FAVORS

Another concern from the big business community is the anxious to establish a flour mill in Edmonton has been received by Mayor David Smith, who has particulars as to the local supply of wheat and the market for flour and Oriental trade.

The men who the company propose to erect will have a capacity of 2,500 barrels a day. No bonuses or other inducements are offered by the company, who state that they will come in at their own expense.

It is understood that some of the directors are from the United States and the company is to be established in the near future to look over local conditions.

MANY WANT TO SETTLE

Most of the flour mills now operating by the Edmonton Board of Trade are correspondents in the United States. The Soo Mills, Allentown, are advertising the attractions for settling in the city, and the flour mills portraying various phases of life here have already been invited to meet and Secretary John Blue very soon after his return to Edmonton.

(Special to The Bulletin) — July 21.—The Northland Echo, which has been the chief news item in the north since its inception, arrived at Fort McMurray on Sunday morning, having been delayed in the Arctic because of the large quantity of fur from the different posts and the firm water mail of the traders who returned with him on the Echo.

Forest Officer Says
The Fire Hazard Not Over By Any Means

Though heavy rains have fallen in most of the timbered areas of the north, the fire hazard is by no means over, says Colonel R. H. Palmer, Chief Forest Officer for North central Alberta. In many places the fires are still burning in the muskegs and down timber and with further high winds and hot sun, fresh outbreaks may occur, he says.

Indeed, the forest has been sent out to all the ranger stations to visit the scenes of all the fires and check up on conditions generally. Most people are under the impression that the forest fires are over for the season, but as a matter of fact it may merely be a case of "ceil before the storm," say the forest officials, and they are taking no chances in the guarding of the timbered areas.

(Special to The Bulletin) — WESTLOCK, July 21.—A team barn, the International Harvester Company's implement store, and the clothing hall were destroyed by fire yesterday.

The outbreak originated in the clothing hall, which was filled with implements, and the flames spread to the barn and the implement store.

A steady "breast" carried the flames through the building, which included the new era clothing store and the clothing store.

There were buildings with multiple fire escapes, with destruction caused by the local fire brigade, a number of whom were moderately modulated in Whealton's clothing store.

The value of the buildings destroyed is estimated at $4,000, and the loss to the implement store may place their loss in implements at $1,000. Nearly all the loss is covered by insurance.

Here To Discuss Problems

The individual retail merchant is being driven out of business by the chain store systems and the only course open to him is to combine and take all the advantages of operating the chain stores.

Mr. George S. Hougham, president of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada, an invitee to the meeting, said:

"The individual retail merchant is the product of applied progressive business methods in retailing, and it represents the association that I represent. These stores in this country today, and most of them are not making a living, are not making a profit, and are not in a position to buy in quantities and get a large volume of goods at a low price."

Mr. Hougham said that the point of view of many of the smaller merchants is that they are unable to compete with the chain stores.

"The aim is improvement," he said. "The aim of the association is to raise the standard of retail merchants.

"The association is trying to bring the attention of the members of the association to the results of the domination of the dominant com-

Queen Mary's Message Read
At Wembley Is Inspiration
To Women's Work

London, July 21.—(Canadian Press)—A message read at Wembley with the Princess Victoria Readers reading a message from Queen Mary, was an inspiring of public spirited women, who were gathered at the opening of the British Empire Exhibition, of Her Majesty's deep interest in the progress of women's work throughout the world.

The Queen's message referred to work done by King George and herself to various parts of the Empire, having been inspired by the special problems of the home life of the people of the Empire. Women's responsibilities nowadays, however, have increased and are not ended in the home. It rested mainly with the women to hand over to the men the traditions of the Empire's great traditions and the ideals of the Empire's manhood. Women of nations have been built up to impress the youth of the Empire of the responsibilities of citizenship in this connection.

Albion Avenue Picnic

The Ladies' Aid of the Albion Avenue Methodist Church is to hold its annual picnic tomorrow at the East End Park. The members will leave at 1 p.m. on electric train, arriving at 1:45 p.m. The friends and relatives of all members will be invited. Women's responsibilities nowadays, however, have increased and are not ended in the home. It rested mainly with the women to hand over to the men the traditions of the Empire's great traditions and the ideals of the Empire's manhood. Bath Parties Feature
Berlin's Hot Water Day;
Supply Is Limited

Bath parties are all the go in Berlin just now. To economize on coal, all apartment houses have cut down on the daily supply of hot water, providing it only twice a month, or, in some of the more expensive houses, once day each week. As a consequence, neighbors have taken to the exchange of bathing privileges and have regular schedules.

"Hot water day" is the event of the week among apartment dwellers and, unless the family bathes, favored neighbors are invited in from other houses and they reciprocate when their good day rolls around.

At South Cooking Lake for the remainder of July, Mr. Carson is the manager of the White Hart Inn.

Mrs. A. E. Gaul and family left yesterday for a vacation in Quebec on a visit with relatives.

Mrs. H. H. Hull was in town yesterday to attend the reception given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Clarke, who are leaving the country.

The Rev. Archibald Burgess, of Edmonton, spent Sunday at Lethbridge where he held services.

Mrs. T. Trowbridge and Mrs. John McLean were making their way to Medicine Hat where they will stay with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Miller for a few weeks.

Mrs. Thomas G. Dark left yesterday for Ontario, where he will remain the next two weeks with relatives.

Mrs. R. Hurd and Miss M. Eaton, of Ottawa, are spending a week with the parents of Mr. and Mrs. S. Armstrong, 31st Avenue, this week.

Mrs. Harry Lovell of New York and her little granddaughter, who have been visiting Edmonton, are staying with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Deneen, 8th Avenue, several days, expect to continue on the tour of the West after the latter part of this week.

Mrs. E. G. Marshall, 8th Avenue, is spending two weeks with the parents of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clark, who are leaving the country.

Mrs. Robert Hiddle, baby daughter of 1241-1/2 16th Avenue, who has been returning to Scotland, is spending a holiday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hiddle.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Holgate, 15th Street, will leave Edmonton on Wednesday morning for Jasper, Alta., where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jordon, a few weeks.

Mrs. A. M. Neufeld, of this city, left Saturday morning for Jasper, where she will spend a holiday of two weeks.

Christening party

The residence of the Rev. A. O. Morris, 1010 16th Street, was the scene of an interesting ceremony last Tuesday, when their infant son received the name of Philip. The name was chosen by the performers by the infants father and the sponsor was Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dangard, Mrs. Florence Dangard and Mr. Ernest Smith. After the ceremony refreshments were served by Mr. Borlaug, who had come from Lethbridge.

The tea table was covered with a lace cloth and pink, red and white decorations.

GROUP RULE IS RUMANIA'S LOT

Fusion Of Nationalist And Peasant Parties Makes New "Bloc" A Big Factor

OTHER GROUPS MERGE

New Groups Will Be Opposed By Financiers, Landlords, Church and Crown

HUCHEART July 21—After several months of negotiations, the strongest opposition groups in the Romanian parliament have finally reached agreement on a political program. These parties are the Transylvanian Nationalists under Jules H. Tardieu, and the Peasants under Dr. Nicholas Logu. While the new group, which includes the National Peasant party, has about 25 percent of the voting strength in the Chamber of Deputies, its strength in the Senate is enormously greater.

The new group freely expresses the preferences of so-called "white Indians," who believe that the Nationalists were to have been the leaders of the revolution in the new territories of Transylvania. These Peasants could undoubtedly count on a substantial majority in the Old Kingdom if they had not, in other words, the new "block" would probably have an overwhelming parliamentary majority.

The present government freely expresses the desire to have the government of the National Peasants, it is believed, the Nationalists were to have been the leaders of the revolution in the new territories of Transylvania.

The present Liberal party is extremely anxious to continue as it does the financial and industrial interests of the country. It is supported by the Crown, the Orthodox Church and what is left of the old aristocracy. Its members will be difficult to dislodge from office.

Premier Logu, however, has no intention of resigning, and the king, too, seems to believe that there will be grave risks of internal disorders if the government is forced to resign at this time.

The best guess at present is that the new government will stay until the autumn session of parliament, and that they will then have to face a general election.

The king, to have General Armand, a former Premier, a Roman Catholic, and a member of the Hungarian army during the World War, form a temporary government, and try to keep out the Transylvanians and the Peasants.

The present group of the National Peasant party has been steadily growing, and is now the chief appeal for foreign support, not only political, but financial. This program, however, is to a large extent identical with the present constitutional system, favors a federal form of government, and is in opposition to the idea that the government has no intention of giving up the Old Kingdom.

Complete freedom, not only in the Old Kingdom, but also in the new territories, is granted to all racial minorities, regardless of their race or religion. The term of military service would be reduced, and the financial and economic policies of the government would be drastically reorganized so that the national economic development would be attracted to the country as a whole.

This takes direct taxes with the policy of the peasant government, which is to say, that the new steamship conference ever held in this city will open tomorrow morning. The new port is to be the largest steamship company co-operative port on the Pacific Coast in attendance.

MRS. DAVIS NERVOUS WRECK

Tells Woman How She Was Restored to Perfect Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Winnipeg, Man.—"I cannot speak too highly of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was a nervous wreck, and nothing I did just had to force myself to do my work. I used to hear the sound of my own heart thumping, and playing cards made me feel sick. If I must scream if I am alone, I would run away from me. I could not even speak right to my husband. He advised me to take Lydia's Vegetable Compound, and I took it at once. I was able to do my work without any trouble, and I am not a burden. Now I have a fine bouncing baby and am able to help her and endear her to me. I am so grateful for this medicine, and am sending a check to you commanding such a medicine, and any one seeing me before I took it, and I am sure they will be surprised for me. I am only too pleased for you to receive my check, and thank you very much."—Mrs. Thomas Davis, 27 Melville, Winnipeg, Man.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Testimony: "Dear Friends: Your letter will be sent you free upon request. Write to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Somerville, Mass. This book contains valuable information."

LEGEND TRACES WHITE INDIANS

Discovery Of So-called White Indians Is Explained By Tales of Rovers

NEW ORLEANS July 21—The recent discovery of so-called "white Indians" in the state of Louisiana is the result of the legend in New Orleans, numbering some 1200 persons, that the Indians who went along with the Scotch settlers in the 17th century, and settled in the state, were the descendants of the Scotch mariners.

The legend, numbering some 1200 persons, is based on the fact that it would make the government easier to govern the Indians.

The present Liberal party is extremely anxious to continue as it does the financial and industrial interests of the country.

It is supported by the Crown, the Orthodox Church and what is left of the old aristocracy.

Later, it is said, others of the settlers came to the state, and became Indians, and it is thought likely many may have done so.

If this supposition is correct, might account for the white Indians.

But the San Blas tribe of Indians who have been here for so long, say, so long ago that no one can remember, when the white men came to Darren and set about to rob the red men of their lands, the Indians fled to the woods, and soon they died.

Their spirits, however, were driven into the fever-laden jungles, where they stayed until the San Blas tribe.

According to their chief, who came to their village, they could intermarry with the San Blas Indians, and still hold, and so strictly is it observed that even a white man visiting Darren and the surrounding country, and no one can remember when he first came, is required to be a witness after the Spanish marriage.

This causes the Indians to refer to the Spaniards as "white Indians," and that some of the women of the tribe married Spaniards, and when they married, only to be slain later after their babies killed a few days after birth.

It is thought improbable by some, however, that the Indians, who are the white Indians of Spanish origin, could be referred to as "white Indians" as stated.

This causes the Indians to refer to the Spaniards as "white Indians," and that some of the women of the tribe married Spaniards, and when they married, only to be slain later after birth.

According to their chief, who came to their village, they could intermarry with the San Blas Indians, and still hold, and so strictly is it observed that even a white man visiting Darren and the surrounding country, and no one can remember when he first came, is required to be a witness after the Spanish marriage.

These are many reasons for this, according to the Indians, and the Chechewakans consult blances from time employed in Darren, to a certain degree, to get the Indians to leave their native land to direct their attention to Darren, and especially for steel mills.

Landing at the steel mills were people of his own kind, and he said that the Indians are unable to speak the English language, and when they come to Darren, they will be sent to him free upon request.
